It will include Kat's story, what inspires her, information about her show and her shop, her sketches, and her personal tattoos she's a walking tattoo. The thrust of the book is on her point of view on tattooing now: the work she finds inspirational, past and present; great tattoo artists, from a classic artist like Sailor Jerry to people she admires who are working around the world.

The book will have a strong voyeuristic, human interest factor along with a wealth of great line art and photography, which is being shot for the book by Lionel Deloy. Finally, the book will include humorous visual thematic portfolios of Kat's work and aspects of tattooing she finds compelling. The examples include: Kat's portrait tattoos for which she is famous ; great work in typography, back pieces, memorials, body suits, and more. Beskrivning The charismatic Kat Von D, the star of LA Ink, with writer Anthony Bozza author of best-sellers "Slash" and "Tommyland" opens the door to the world of contemporary tattooing, the way only a true insider can.

ISBN Designed in a style that is reminiscent of a handmade Gothic journal with its red padded cover, ornate typography, and parchmentlike pages, it throws the door wide open to tattooing culture in the way only an insider like Kat can. High Voltage Tattoo traces Kat's career as an artist, from early childhood influences to recent work, along with examples of what inspires her, information about the show and her shop, her sketches, and personal tattoos. The book goes deep into tattoo process and culture: readers can see up close the pigments, the tools, and the making of complex, even collaborative, tattoos. It profiles and showcases the work of artists Kat has selected from all over the world, her interviews with people who have compelling tattoos and stories, and amazing images of extraordinary tattoo work.

Numerous portfolios throughout the book showcase a range of relevant subjects, from the black and gray portrait work for which Kat is famous to a popular tattoo theme, such as the rose or biblical images. There is a knockout ten-page full-body spread of Kat—clad in a yellow bikini and seven-inch, rhinestone-studded red stilettos—that catalogs in detail all her personal tattoos on her front, back, left, and right sides—even her hands and head. Ink and I don't give a damn who "they" think they are. After snapping a couple of quick shots from the front of the shop and preparing to leave, a young man approached me and said I could cross the rope after all. She told me that "she said" I could as long as I don't go beyond the velvet curtain in the back - I had to ask who he meant by "she" and he said Kat Von D herself had given permission for me to take photos around the shop.

She was in a back room beyond that curtain, but was in the middle of a private appointment. So, thank you, Kat, for allowing me to step beyond the rope and take some pictures. Unfortunately, there wasn't much to see that I didn't get from the front of the room - there was no offer of a tour or even to view the sterilization area, and no one was offering their time for an interview. I basically wandered aimlessly and snapped a few shots, ready to bolt and get out of this inhospitable environment. This guy - I believe this is Nate - actually smiled at me while I leaned in for a closer look while he worked.

Since he was obviously busy, I didn't interrupt, but I did appreciate the acknowledgment. Mojo, on the other hand, who was tattooing on the other side of the room, only spoke to me to ask me not to stand so close I was about 6 inches away to the table the client was laying on while he worked. Sure, no problem! I'm just getting more and more warm fuzzies the longer I stay here. We did meet these lovely people visiting from Denmark. This is Yede right and her nephew Meds left. They seemed happy with their experience and I guess that's all that matters.

We also met Yede's niece unfortunately her name escapes me after she finished getting her tattoo from Mojo. This was her first tattoo and she was very nervous, but her brother and aunt said she did great. All three of them were so nice to talk to and a refreshing change from the studio staff. This was the tattoo Yede and her niece both got. Needless to say, this was a disappointing visit. TV show or not, celebrity or not, when you run a business it should be handled professionally and potential clients should be treated with respect.

If you are ever treated this way in any tattoo studio, walk away. There are other shops out there with better people. Never settle and never assume all tattoo artists have rock star egos. Don't give people more credit than they deserve just because they are on TV or have celebrity status. We're all just people. Just a few miles away from L. Ink, we visited a fantastic shop with the warmest and most welcoming crew. Next week, you'll be able to read about them! Actively scan device characteristics for identification.
