Quarantine Perspectives

Dear Prayer Team:

What is happening here in Peru is happening all over the world and we would like to share our perspective of this world event so that you can better pray for us.

Bethany's perspective- School work continues to take up a lot of time but I am learning how to manage my time and I am enjoying learning many new skills. I enjoy practicing my guitar, putting together specials, and designing and sewing clothes. I have been out several times during the quarantine. But look forward to when I can leave the house without wearing a mask and continue with my normal daily activities out of the house.

Joey's perspective- I really miss soccer and being with my friends. Sometimes I get an energy burst and don't know what to do with it. I have more time for school which in general I don't like. I am teaching English to a young man named Alfredo. I am praying for his salvation and hope that through English class I can be a witness to him.

Jordan's perspective-
I really miss soccer but I have learned to do my homework faster so that I can focus on different opportunities. I am practicing my violin and having music classes with my mom and two of my friends. Bethany is teaching me to make bracelets out of yarn and I am learning to cook.

Emily's perspective- I miss being with my friends at church. I like to call them on the phone or on zoom. I like wearing a dress on Sunday even though we just sit on the couch. I enjoy math and numbers and even think about them when I go to bed.

Sam's perspective-
I keep very busy, teaching at the seminary, zoom meetings, and visiting church members when I can. I have really enjoyed handing out Blessing

Packs which contains a Bible and some food with one of our missionary co-workers. We have been in all parts of Urubamba and in the neighboring towns. There have been several opportunities to witness lately with people coming to the house and asking about the Gospel. I am grateful for the many opportunities God has given in the last couple of months but I really miss being with and being able to personally interact with the church people.

Beth's perspective-

I keep very busy teaching, my own children as well as the children in the homeschool group. At first, it was a lot on zooming and correcting via WhatsApp but now many of the kids come personally, which is a lot easier for everyone. We can have up to 12 people at the lunch table since it is so difficult for the kids to come back and forth. I thank God for this incredible opportunity to minister to the kids and their families during this time. God is also allowing me to meet individually with some of the women of the church to pray together.

God's perspective:

I have this all under control and I am using it in each of your lies for a unique purpose. I love you and will take care of you.

What's your perspective?

Although each of our perspectives is different, God's perspective for us is not. He has a plan and a purpose. Let's trust Him.
